A minimum of two hours would be required.

Training would involve learning to use the free FTP program I have given your school to upload the new web gallery files and updated Highlights page to your web server.

Training would also involve learning to use a free HTML editor I will provide you with in order to update the text on the highlights page and create the links to the web gallery.

You would also be trained in how to make the web galleries in Adobe Photoshop Elements but you would need to buy this software unless you already have a copy.

You can purchase it for your school through the DEECD Software for Education program for less than $100.
